Wavell Considers Gandhi's Release

LONDON, May 5. Marshal Viscount Wavell, Viceroy of India, was understood today to be considering releasing Mohandas K. Gandhi, 74-year-old Indian Nationalist leader, from internment.

Gandhi has been suffering from malaria and low blood pressure and his personal physician, Dr. B. C. Roy, said early today that the elderly leader was "very weak" and incapable of undertaking his normal mental and physical work.

Dr. Roy added, however, that Gandhi was as "jolly and alive as ever."

Wavell was expected to consult the cabinet in London before releasing Gandhi, who was interned Aug. 9, 1942 in the Aga Khan's palace, south of Bombay, on charges of inciting fatal riots and sabotage in his campaign for Indian independence.

If Gandhi should prove too ill to move, his release might be effected by simply removing the guards from his prison villa.

25 Men Passed For Duty, Report

It was reported more or less officially Friday that 25 out of 28 Putnam county draftees passed their armed service examinations at Indianapolis Thursday in the latest quota to report under the National Selective Service Act.

Members of the group that were called made the statement regarding the number who passed, but the local office of the draft board had not received the official report from Indianapolis Friday morning.

Total Casualties Rise 5,005 In Week

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A 5,005 increase above the total announced last week in casualties in the armed forces was reported today, bringing the total since the war began to 197,841.

The figures does not mean there were 5,005 casualties in a seven-day period since reports from distant theaters necessarily are subject at times to delay.

Since last week's report was issued announcement had been made of the sinking of an American transport in Mediterranean waters with the loss of 498 men.

Today's figures added 993 to the roll of Army dead, bringing the total to 26,575, and seventy-seven to the Navy list, raising it to 18,992. Other new figures:

Army—Wounded, 62,312, increase of 2,146; missing, 33,814, increase of 1,087; prisoners of war, 30,601, increase of 651.

Navy—Wounded, 11,899, increase of thirty-five; missing, 9,192, decrease of four; prisoners, 5,456, increase of twenty. The decrease in the total of missing was not explained, but could be due to transfers of names from the missing category to the lists of dead or prisoners.

Red Fliers Hurl Death On Nazis

MOSCOW, May 5.—(UP)—Large forces of Soviet bombers sent tons of bombs crashing down on German and Rumanian troops jammed into Sevastopol Wednesday night, a Russian communique reported last night, in what may be a prelude to the final Red Army assault on the Crimean stronghold.

Many artillery batteries were silenced by the rain of bombs, and 10 big fires were started among military dumps and in the railway junction area. A number of explosions, including two large ones, was observed.

"Heavy losses" were inflicted on the enemy, the communique said. All planes returned safely from the attack, the 13th major raid carried out by the Red force on the central and southern fronts in 16 nights.

Russian planes also bombed enemy troop concentrations on the Stanislawow front southeast of Lwow in old Poland, shooting down 13 enemy aircraft in combat. The Germans attacked on a number of sectors on this front, but everywhere were thrown back to their initial positions with a total loss of nearly 800 men.

METHODISTS BACK WAR

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 5.—(UP)—The nation's war effort had the clear-cut support of the general conference of the Methodist church today.

YANK BOMBERS IN AXIS SKIES AGAIN FRIDAY

PRE-INVASION AERIAL ATTACK ROARS INTO 19TH DAY OVER EUROPE

LONDON, May 5.—(UP)—Nearly 100 American Liberators flew into the rain-bowed dawn today to usher in the 19th day of pre-invasion attacks on Germany's Atlantic wall defenses, but many returned with full bombloads because rain and clouds veiled the target area.

Only a few hours later, Mitchell and Bostons of the 2nd Tactical Air Force with an escort of Spitfires attacked railway yards at Cambrai, south of Lille, France, to further the disruption of enemy communications behind the invasion coast.

The American dawn fleet passed in mid-channel the last flights of British twin-engine Mosquitoes returning from block-buster night attacks on western Germany. RAF planes also mined enemy waters last night, and all returned safely.

Striking from Italian bases, RAF Halifaxes and Wellingtons attacked Budapest, capital of Hungary, and one of the main communications centers in the Balkans, during the night. It was the fourth time that British night bombers have attacked Budapest.

Mustangs, also from the 8th U. S. Air Force, escorted the Liberators during their dawn attack on what a U. S. army communique classified as "military installations" in the Pas De Calais area of the northwest France coast.

Coastal observers reported the Mustangs returned across the Straits of Dover in a rainstorm. Participating pilots said many of the big bombers, unable to pinpoint their targets, returned with their bombs rather than risk killing or injuring Frenchmen in surrounding areas.

Bad weather also hampered operations yesterday, but some 200 Flying Fortresses attacked a heavily camouflaged airfield in occupied Holland as another step in the campaign to drive the Luftwaffe from its front-line bases and wear down its striking power.

Hundreds of other allied planes bombed and strafed France and Belgium during the day yesterday and one RAF Mosquito was credited with shooting down a German twin-engine Heinkel in six minutes over the Wijn airfield in eastern France at dusk.

Though the RAF's night targets were not announced, they presumably lay in Germany's industrial Ruhr and Rhineland. The Frankfurt and Stuttgart radios were among those that fell silent because of the approach of allied planes last night.

The London Daily Mail suggested that British night fighters might escort the RAF's heavy bombers if any further raids were made by moonlight during the next week or so to lessen the chances of such high losses as the 49 which failed to return from attacks on French military depots Wednesday night.

Order Autopsy In Editor's Death

WASHINGTON, May 5 (UP)—Authorities ordered an autopsy today on the body of Elmer J. Garner, 80-year-old Wichita, Kan., publisher, whose death released yesterday from further prosecution as one of the 30 defendants in the war's biggest sedition trial.

The quiet, almost-deaf defendant, publisher of the allegedly anti-semitic weekly "Publicity," was found dead in his rooming house. The death was first attributed to advanced age but the autopsy and an inquest were ordered when the coroner's office learned of his connection with the sedition trial.

Meanwhile, the contempt hearing of defense Attorney James J. Laughlin continued in its second day with the government attempting to show that the outspoken attorney had issued his many motions during the first two weeks of the trial mainly to obtain publicity.

Low Temperature Recorded Today

A low recording of temperature was made here early today and many thermometers over the city went as low as 36 degrees. Some said it would have frosted had the night been a clear one, but instead it rained and was foggy most of the night.

SERVING COUNTRY

T. A. Dreyer

Avery Still Boss To His Secretary

CHICAGO, May 5.—(UP)—Despite the fact the government operation in charge of Montgomery Ward and Company's Chicago plant now occupies the office of Sowell Avery, chairman of the board of directors, it's still "Mr. Avery's office" to Miss Dorothea Rickman, the secretary who answers the telephone.

That typifies activity at the headquarters of the nation's second largest mail order house pending the outcome of litigation over the government's seizure of the property April 26 and the collective bargaining election Tuesday.

"The filling of orders and taking care of customers are going on as usual."

Between three and five government officials, headed by John B. Goodloe, operate the plant, but there have been as many as 40 government officials at the office at one time.

Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce, was named government operator and took over the plant after it was seized by a detachment of 40 soldiers, but he now is in Washington and Goodloe is in control. Goodloe said he did not know when Taylor would return here.

Goodloe said he doesn't intend to make any "great decisions" regarding the company, but would leave them up to the regular officials of the firm.

Nathaniel Royall, an accountant in the Department of Commerce in Washington, said the government started setting up a separate set of books after Avery refused to turn over the company's records.

Burke said the Company was carrying all business on its books "as accurately and completely as we always do and I assume that when the government's plans concerning their books are completed they will take our figures from the date which they began operating the plant."

There has been "as little interference as possible" in the normal flow of business Goodloe reported, adding that employees below the top ranking officials "have carried out their duties as if there had been no change of management."

Figures released by the Company revealed that business for April dropped approximately $12,000,000 (M) compared to the same period last year.

Total sales for April amounted to $48,246,506 (M) compared with $60,655,825 for the same period a year ago, a drop of 20.5 per cent. The decline was in sharp contrast to the two preceding months when a decrease of only 2.3 per cent was shown.

However, a 13-day strike during April, precipitated by the Company's refusal to obey a War Labor Board directive and extend the union contract, was blamed for some decrease in the sales volume.

The strike culminated in government seizure of the plant and the subsequent litigation now pending in the courts.

U. S. TROOPS IN NEW LANDINGS ON NEW GUINEA

YANKS TIGHTEN RING OF STEEL AROUND TRAPPED JAP FORCES

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, May 5.—(UP)—U. S. troops extended their control of the Humboldt Bay area with two new landings on the Dutch New Guinea coast in a move to cut the escape routes of Japanese trapped in the region, it was announced today.

A communique by Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed that the Americans landed at Torare Bay, 12 miles northwest of Hollandia, and at Denta, 16 miles west of Tanahmerah Bay, last Friday—six days after an allied force invaded Dutch New Guinea.

"Mopping up continues and small bands of the enemy in the surrounding areas are giving themselves up to our patrols," the communique said.

A spokesman said opposition to the landings was "very light" and that only two Japanese were killed at Denta, the western anchor of the new allied front on northern New Guinea, stretching 160 miles eastward to Aitape.

Front dispatches estimated that 60,000 Japanese troops were trapped in the isolated area of British New Guinea, east of Hollandia, with allied forces closing in from both sides.

In the Aitape area, 125 miles below Hollandia, a spokesman revealed that a total of 842 Japanese had been killed up to Tuesday, and it was reported that the enemy forces were continuing to withdraw over inland trails toward Wewak, 85 miles to the east.

An authority at headquarters believed the Japanese would put up stronger opposition in the northwestern section of Dutch New Guinea, where they were reported strengthening their forces at Schouten Islands in Geelvink Bay, 450 miles west of Hollandia, with naval aircraft.

Allied bombers have raided the Geelvink Bay bases almost daily in the past week, and while the communique did not mention any new attacks in that area, it disclosed further assaults on Wadke Island and the nearby coastal sections, 110 miles west of Hollandia.

Medium bombers on two successive days bombed and strafed Wadke air-drome and the mainland coast from Sarmi to Takar, destroying two enemy planes and damaging several barges.

Liberators, Boston and Mitchell bombers of the Fifth Air Force continued their neutralization offensive against Wewak, in British New Guinea, with a new attack Wednesday when they dropped 183 tons of explosives on supply dumps and buildings around the four battered air-dromes.

Solomon-based medium and light bombers again raided Rabaul, New Britain, hitting Tobera runway and supply areas with 129 tons of bombs. Motor vehicles were destroyed and three barges damaged. Two American planes were shot down by enemy anti-aircraft fire.

Approves Probe Into Ward Case

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—Rep. Charles S. Dewey, R., Ill., today urged the House to "put an end to high-handed and dictatorial acts" in this country by giving swift and unanimous approval to his resolution for an investigation into the government's seizure of Montgomery Ward & Co.

He made his appeal as the House prepared to act on his proposal to create a special seven-man committee to investigate President Roosevelt's authority to take over the firm's Chicago properties and use force to eject its board chairman, Sewell L. Avery, from the premises.

Although acknowledging that Congress had given Mr. Roosevelt unusual wartime powers, Dewey said that "neither Congress nor the people thought those powers meant the loss of our constitutional liberties." He said the plant seizure was comparable "only to the dictatorial methods of Hitler."

His appeal coincided with two other developments in the controversy:

1. Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H., suggested that the Senate broaden its current inquiry to determine why reporters were "rigidly barred" from a Chicago hearing by a regional director of the National Labor Relations Board. "Not content to have violated one section of the Bill of Rights in the Montgomery Ward case, the investigators now seek to hide their sins by resorting to a second violation involving freedom of the press," he said.

2. Rep. Fred Crawford, R., Mich., introduced two other resolutions in connection with the Ward controversy. One would call on the House judiciary committee to make an immediate study and "establish a ready reference list of powers of the President when functioning as commander-in-chief."

Dewey told the House that he wanted his proposed investigation "conducted on a high plane" and without "muckraking."

"I want to find out," he said, "whether the President has exceeded his authority or whether the Congress unwittingly gave him more power than it intended."

"If Congress gave the President too much power, the laws should be amended to correct that. If the President has exceeded the authority given him, they also should be amended to restrict that power."

In asking for a broadened Senate inquiry, Bridges said he had been informed that reporters had been barred from the Chicago NLRB hearing last Wednesday even after they made written requests, contending that public policy and interest were involved. The NLRB, he said, denied the request on grounds it was a "private hearing."

JUNIOR STEWART WRITES PARENTS FROM ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stewart are in receipt of an interesting letter from their son, "Junior" who is somewhere in England. It said in part:

"I'm sorry I haven't written you before this week, but I've been busy, and had a little social life. Today I was on K. P. again. I get it about once a month. You asked why? Well some one has to pull it in our company, so it is the private who doesn't, so that's me. Yesterday I really had a wonderful day. First I slept until 11 A. M. Got up and had dinner, then went out looking around. I found a beautiful park, so I just strolled around. During my stroll I ran into a girl from Canada. She was a W. A. A. P. I had quite a long talk with her but that was all I continued walking after I left her and before I knew it, I was in front of one of England's most famous churches, erected in 1200. There were several M. P.s around so I asked what the occasion was. One said an army chaplain was being elevated from a priest to a bishop. Also he told me there would be a lot of brass around, several big generals. Well, anyway, I have wanted to attend a Cathedral, so here was my chance. I strolled in and really it was beautiful. Soon after I entered the Mass began. As for myself, I felt very conspicuous, not knowing what to do. I just sat there and did like I do at home in our church. I've always heard the saying 'When in Rome, do as the Romans do' but I didn't. Well the Mass was really beautiful. It was something I will always remember. I was saying the Chaplain was 'elevated to a Bishop. They say it was the first time it has ever happened. By that I mean in pre-war times it always took place in Rome, and this is the first time it has been outside of Rome. I guess my being nosey showed me something."

That was a Sunday and it was a wonderful day for me. I also had a good time in walking around and seeing things I had never seen before. I got up early this morning and went on K. P. again. For breakfast we had eggs, the old fashioned kind, you know the kind with shells on them, the fresh kind. Quite a rarity over here. All we ever see is the dried foods. They are O.K. but hard to get used to eating. I received the cookies from Sis.

The letter was signed "Butch."

CONTRACTOR REGAINS 25 LBS. ON RETONGA

Could Eat Only Milk And Cereals And Had To Give Up Business. Feels Better Than In Years.

Declaring that Retonga relieved distresses that forced him to give up business for two years, Mr. John B. Davis, widely-known contractor and business man of Algood, Tenn., gratefully adds his name to the thousands praising this noted medicine. Discussing Retonga, Mr. Davis happily stated:

"I had to give up all business for two years, and I took treatments and medicines without relief until I felt almost desperate. I could eat only milk and cereals and even these disagreed with me. The gas pains and pressure were almost beyond endurance. I never got one good night's sleep. I had to use strong laxatives continually. I was thirty pounds under weight and felt so weak I could hardly walk around the house. I started on Retonga and within a week I began to get relief, and I soon felt so much better that I became associated with a big construction company. This was nearly two years ago and I haven't missed a day from the job since. I have regained twenty-five pounds, and I feel better than in years. Naturally my gratitude to Retonga is unbounded."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach and loss of appetite. Accept no substitutes. Retonga may be obtained at R. P. Mullins Drug Store.—Adv.

DERBY TOMORROW

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—(UP)—The size of the field in tomorrow's 70th running of the Kentucky Derby will be decided today when the trainers step up to the entry box in the little secretary's office at sprawling Churchill Downs and nominate their hopes for the run for the roses.

If the track, now a sea of brown mud after two days of rain, is sloppy the field is expected to number 15. But if the weather clears and the quick-draining horse highway dries out, 16 aspiring runners probably will go to the post.

The prospect now is for heavy going, which would mean that J. V. Maggio's American Eagle and B. R. Patton's Valley Flares would not go to the barrier. But if the sun shines and dries the mud from the broad racing strip, then W. C. Davis will not put up the final $500 fee necessary to qualify his Rockwood Boy for the $75,000 added classic. Kope Kona, the Hawaiian-bred colt, was declared out yesterday.

Cloudy skies that sent down a mist made it appear that the feature event of the American turf would have had footing for the first time since Omaha splashed to victory in 1935.

But it did not affect the odds which made Greentree Stable's Stir Up the outstanding favorite in a mediocre field of three-year-olds hoping to flash their silks home first in Saturday's mile and a quarter test.

NEW ARMY PLAN

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—The War Department today announced a new plan under which key army ground force personnel in combat zones will be able to return to this country on non-emergency leaves and furloughs.

The department emphasized, however, that the overall number of men who will return will not be increased since the key personnel—men whose jobs make them "in a measure" indispensable—will be included in present furlough quotas. They will be allowed three weeks within the United States before returning to their posts.

At present, not more than one per cent of the military strength of any theater may be returned in any month on leaves or furloughs.

Under the new plan, men held to be "irreplaceable" will be granted furloughs and their jobs will be filled only temporarily while they are on leave.

Ground forces personnel may now be granted leaves and furloughs under the following plan:

1. The rotation plan which requires that personnel returned for leave and reassignment be replaced by men of the same grade and military specialty.
2. The return of men who need hospitalization, who are to be discharged or those compelled to come back for emergency reasons.
3. The key personnel system which requires that men granted leave be returned to their jobs at the expiration of the leave.

DEPAUW CHAPEL

"Nations may break the moral law for a time, but sooner or later it will break them," declared President Clyde E. Wildman of DePauw today in addressing worship chapel at DePauw University.

"The dice of the universe are loaded against injustice, cruelty and oppression," he added. "Such a system may be kept alive for a time by large armies, by cleverness, and selfishness, but in the long-run its doom is sure."

"There is a law of sowing and reaping. Evil in the long-run is self-destructive. It carries in its own nature the seeds of doom," he concluded.

DENVER, May 5 (UP)—A 21-year-old Los Angeles woman who reversed the child-bride story by eloping with a 14-year-old boy, today was completing her honeymoon in the Denver jail. So was her young husband, Ellsworth Wisecarver.

Elaine Monfred and her "child groom" were arrested late yesterday in a Denver hotel lobby by detectives as the couple waited for some money which they had wired the bride's mother to send them.

The mother of two small children, Mrs. Monfred or Wisecarver was held at the request of Los Angeles authorities, who have a warrant issued by Wisecarver's mother, charging her with child stealing.

NEW WEAPONS PROMISED

LONDON, May 5.—(UP)—U. S. invasion forces were told today that they will smash into axis Europe with new type weapons never before tried in combat, and a Stockholm dispatch said the Germans expect at least one allied force will land in Denmark on the shortest route to Berlin.

Brig. Gen. Henry B. Saylor, chief ordnance officer of the U. S. army in the European theater, wrote in the army newspaper Stars and Stripes that the new weapons, representing the best American military science yet has produced, were sent to Britain after being tested thoroughly at proving grounds in the United States.

"Every American soldier participating in the forthcoming operations may be assured that his weapons, ammunition, tanks and vehicles are superior or at least equal to those of the enemy," Saylor said.

American arsenals now have produced an all-purpose gun surpassing the German 88-millimeter gun in quality and quantity, he reported, and added that it might be possible to call new American ammunition with higher explosive charges, as well as certain small arms, "secret weapons."

Col. Joel B. Holmes, deputy ordnance chief, said the invasion forces would carry with them enough ammunition to last for several weeks. A Berlin dispatch in the Stockholm Aftonbladet said German military leaders believed the allies plan to invade Denmark with "powerful forces, probably simultaneously with a cross-channel landing in France."

The Danish-German border lies only 225 miles from Berlin and occupation of Denmark might pave the way for the allied fleets to force the battle for further landings in northern Germany and a new and shorter sea link with Russia.

The Germans were reported to have sent strong reinforcements of crack paratroops and other units to Denmark late last month to bolster the already fairly large garrison.

Nazi sources continued their wild speculation over "D day" for the invasion. A Berlin dispatch in the Swiss newspaper Journal De Geneve said German military experts expected the invasion to come "three weeks from yesterday." No reason was given for the arbitrary choice of the date.

Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, in his latest articles for his magazine Das Reich, said only that Germany knows the "enemy has finished his preparations for the coming invasion."

Goebbels acknowledged that the allies have achieved aerial superiority, but denied that the Luftwaffe had been "knocked out of the air."

"Every square mile of possible invasion territory has been carefully prepared for the reception of the plutocratic mercenary troops," Goebbels said. "We reckon with the invasion every day and every night..."

"We believe that we know approximately the strength the enemy can muster for the invasion. Our own strength, we know exactly. Analyzing the situation calmly and objectively, we again and again come to the conclusion that we can be sure of us."

No responsible authority in London would hazard a guess for publication as to when the invasion would come. However, veteran merchant seamen with many years experience dealing with the North Sea and English channel tides said the first 15 days of June usually bring ideal weather for shipping operations.

June normally has only a few gales and tides also are favorable, but it ranks with January as one of the worst months for fog.

ACCUSES ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—Accusing the administration of playing "politics" with rationing, Rep. August H. Andresen, R., Minn., predicted today that almost all rationing will be lifted before the November elections and then be made tighter than ever if the "New Deal elects its fourth term candidate."

He charged in a speech prepared for delivery on the House floor that the new OPA order ending rationing of all meat except certain beef cuts was "purely political" and motivated by either one of two factors:

1. To "remove the odor" of the seizure of Montgomery Ward Co. properties by military force, or
2. "Political expediency properly timed to end food rationing a few months before the presidential elections" on Nov. 7.

Andresen said other items he expected to be removed from rationing before the elections were beef steak, sugar, butter, canned fruits, gasoline, fuel oil and automobile tires, but added:

"Personally, I am convinced that should the New Deal elect its fourth term candidate on Nov. 7, the Office of Price Administration will shortly hereafter reinstate and make more drastic all rationing policies to further regiment and socialize the economy of our country."

He said that for more than a year, beef and pork producers pleaded with OPA to lift rationing to prevent a glutted market, but that the proposals, not being "geared to proper New Deal timing," fell on "deaf ears."

"Food rationing could have been abolished six months ago as it was well known that all warehouses were bulging with meat and processed foods due to the splendid production effort of farmers and processors."

Andresen said he was especially interested in knowing who ordered Price Chief Chester Bowles "to virtually discontinue" meat rationing in view of the fact that a national magazine just five days before circulated an article in which Bowles, discussing meat rationing, said there would be "some relief in 1945 (with luck) and possibly end when the war is over."

Meanwhile Food Administrator Marvin Jones hinted that steaks and beef roasts—the only meats still requiring red points—may be made point free by fall but warned that the present abundant supplies of food may be only temporary.

"Because we have plenty now," he said in a statement, "it does not necessarily follow that we will have plenty later. The great majority of food is consumed within a year of the time it is produced and it will be even harder to meet our needs this year than it was last year."

He said, however, that there is now an abundance of cattle and that as soon as the movement into processing plants is sufficient, everyone should be able to have a good supply of beef. But again he warned that the feed shortage, and possibly bad weather, hang over the future food outlook, and pointed out that farmers are faced with labor and machinery shortages.

Used fats are urgently needed for battlefield medicines, munitions and for other vital purposes. Help yourself—and help our boys overseas, too!

- 1 SAVE all bits of fat you trim from meat. Once a week melt them down.
- 2 SCRAPE pans before washing them. No grease is too black to be of use.
- 3 SKIM stews, soups, and gravies while they cook. Afterwards, chill them and scoop off the fat.
- 4 SAVE water in which you cook hot dogs, sausages, and ham. Chill, and scoop off the fat.
- 5 SAVE fat scraps left on plates. Melt them down with the meat trimmings.
- 6 KEEP the can (any tin can will do) on the back of the stove where it's handy. When can is full, take it to your butcher and get 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound. Start today!

FATEFUL MAY DAYS HOLD INVASION SECRET

METEOROLOGICALLY, the most favorable conditions for invasion are at hand. Around the world the fateful prediction has been passed: "Sometime in May!" Those who watch the tides, the moon and the weather forecast: "May 1 to May 3." War correspondents pooled their wisdom and voted: "May 6 to 9 will find conditions perfect." Others say May 17 "has everything you'd want." Well, here is a calendar and a map showing various directions mentioned for the terrific Allied assaults. See if you can guess. From the east and the west, the major drives are expected to be launched simultaneously. From the south, the thrust may spread from Corsica and Sardinia to France. From Italy, a thrust may be made into the Balkans. Russia, it is reported, will head straight for Berlin across Poland and the channel coast thrust may swing from Norway and Denmark to Calais or Dieppe. (International)

The People who have used Clean are its Best Advertisers

We've been asked: "WITH SUCH A SUPERIOR PRODUCT, WHY DON'T YOU RUN BIGGER ADS AND TELL MORE PEOPLE ABOUT Clean?" Our answer is: "IF WE MAKE Clean GOOD ENOUGH, PEOPLE WILL TELL EACH OTHER."

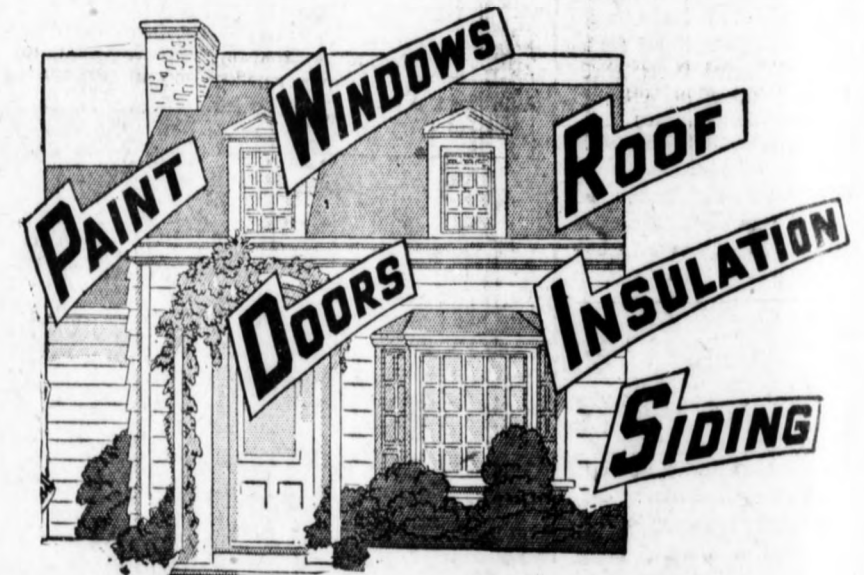

That's exactly what has happened. We've doubled our sales in two years with a modest advertising budget. One user finds out how good Clean is—how easy to use—and tells a dozen others. But we do spend a lot of time and money continually improving our product.

THE MODEST AD IS GOOD ENOUGH IF THE QUALITY IS GOOD ENOUGH
